LETTER FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Patrick J. Gavin, MPH, MBA

As we begin a new year at Hunterdon Healthcare, we do so with a renewed spirit and a strong commitment to bringing the greatest care to our community. We have developed a five-year strategic plan focused on infrastructure and resources, distinction, and growth so that we can ensure that care for generations to come.

As part of our strategic plan, we will implement technological advances that will support seamless, coordinated clinical care, and wellness experiences for diverse patients and providers. Among the many projects that will support these initiatives, we will begin construction on the new Laurence Russell Campus at Phillips-Barber. The facility in Lambertville currently sees more than 20,000 patients a year and provides a vast array of services including behavioral health counseling, integrative medicine modalities, and specialized prenatal services for Latino families among others.

Our plan also aims to modernize the main campus facilities to reflect and support excellent and personalized care, and will include the addition of eight new rooms in our emergency department and the renovation of all clinical care locations in the Hunterdon Medical Center. Renovations will also include a new facade for the hospital, an upgraded lobby, and 100 percent private rooms.

In addition, we will open two new state-of-the-art operating rooms, which will kick off a larger, multi-phased expansion and renovation of our entire operating room suite.

Our goal is to focus on providing excellent clinical services to meet diverse community needs and address health disparities; enhancing our brand so that Hunterdon Healthcare is recognized as the provider of choice and the preferred place to work throughout the region; growing our market share in the North and East zones; and providing opportunities for consumers to conveniently access care.

With so much on the horizon, we are confident that Hunterdon is poised to have one of its most successful years ever. Thank you for your continued support of our health system.

To Your Health,

Patrick J. Gavin
President and CEO
Hunterdon Healthcare System

With so much on the horizon, we are confident that Hunterdon is poised to have one of its most successful years ever.

Moving Forward Together

On behalf of Hunterdon Healthcare Foundation's Board of Trustees, I would like to thank our donors for their support in 2021. Collectively, we raised more than $5 million for the programs and services at Hunterdon Healthcare. Another incredible year for the Foundation! Although the pandemic continued to impact our fundraising efforts in 2021, our community has been eager to move forward together as was evident from the support we received.

Our donors are the heartbeat of the Foundation. Their support ensures that the exceptional care given at Hunterdon is accessible to all; that the best programs and services are available to everyone; and that the best physicians choose to call Hunterdon their home. But most of all, their support tells the staff at Hunterdon Healthcare—staff that has been under immense pressure for the last two years—that they are appreciated.

When I joined the Foundation Board in 2018, I was eager to join the thousands of donors and supporters in making an impact in my community. Most recently in February, I was honored that my colleagues on the Board elected me Chair. It is my hope to continue the incredible work and leadership our previous Chair, Candice Teuber, set forward.

Thank you again for your generosity.

Suzanne Schwanda

LETTER FROM
OUR SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT

Moving Forward With Gratitude

Thank you to Hunterdon Healthcare Foundation's 2,868 donors who made gifts totaling $5.1 million in 2021. Together we are making a difference in our communities. Your meaningful support, brought to life in the stories throughout the pages of this report, strengthens the foundation of our organization and continues to inspire us to achieve these goals.

2021 marked an opportunity to return—at least in part—to pre-pandemic efforts. We hosted two in-person events that raised more than $600,000. We also received support from some third-party events such as Derby Day that could not be carried out in 2020. But, 2021 was also an opportunity for individuals to make a big impact. We received numerous commitments totaling more than $1.3 million in support of our capital expansion projects and were the beneficiaries of several estates totaling more than $726,000.

The impact these gifts made throughout the year was tremendous. You provided transportation for those in need to and from medical appointments; hospice education and bereavement; assistance to colleagues impacted by Hurricane Ida; support for our cancer center programs and their patients; and nursing education to name just a few of the more than 62 programs you supported. And, most recently, the expansion of the emergency department began and is expected to be completed in late 2022.

There is an act of kindness behind each and every contribution we receive. The accomplishments we celebrate in this report are yours. The gratitude from doctors and patients we receive belongs to you.

Memorializing the Life of Golf Pro John Grace

Last spring, Hunterdon Healthcare Foundation received an unexpected gift. As the Foundation was preparing for its 29th Annual Hunterdon Golf Classic at Fiddler's Elbow Country Club in early June, they received a generous contribution from an unforeseen donor.

Patricia Grace, widow of John Grace, reached out to the Foundation and made a generous donation towards the golf classic because golf was so very important to her husband. Since he passed away in May 2019, just three weeks short of his 98th birthday, Patricia wanted to pay it forward with philanthropy, and Hunterdon was the beneficiary of her kindness.

John, a Class A PGA professional and life member, was well-known in the New Jersey golf community and helped construct the Green Knoll Golf Course and the Fox Hollow and Fiddler's Elbow golf clubs. He stayed at Fiddler's Elbow for more than 25 years, serving as head golf professional. In addition, John served as past president of the New Jersey Winter Golf League.

"As 2021 came around, I knew I wanted to do something special to honor his 100th birthday," Patricia explained. "Fiddler's Elbow had been a large part of our lives for the last 25 years of John's career, and even after his retirement. Living a fortunate life has allowed us to be generous with our time and with John's talent. It seemed fitting to honor John at a place that he had spent much of his time and with which he felt such a strong connection. The opportunity to benefit the hospital was a logical connection."

"As the population has grown, so has the vision of what the needs of the community are. It is my feeling that the hospital has risen to the occasion."

Patricia added that John was known for his beautiful swing and long drives. "It seemed only natural to me that when I saw the hospital was having a golf outing, that we would sponsor the longest drive. John had helped build many of those same holes on which the contest would take place. It was especially meaningful that the outing was for Hunterdon Medical Center. We had always been very grateful for the care that our family had received there."

John and Patricia, as well as their son, have been patients of the hospital. "I have always found the care to be good," added Patricia. "A great deal of thought has gone into staff training when it comes to patient comfort. This can be witnessed through the friendly attitude of the daily care, or the treatment of family who may need as much comfort and support as the patient. The man who is waxing the floor, the lady who is wiping down the sink—all see the patient as a person who is away from home and may benefit from a friendly smile. The nurses and aides all do their best to make both the patient and their family as comfortable as possible under trying circumstances."

The Graces have watched Hunterdon Healthcare grow over the years, with many new general and specialty centers being established in and around the community. "As the population has grown, so has the vision of what the needs of the community are. It is my feeling that the hospital has risen to the occasion."

Fund helps employees affected by Hurricane Ida

Hunterdon Healthcare System was able to make a difference in the lives of 29 employees after Hurricane Ida, thanks to its Ida Relief Fund, which was created to supplement the existing Sunshine Fund that supports staff facing emergencies throughout the year.

Hunterdon Healthcare's generous employees raised more than $16,000 for those affected, funding assistance grants that helped them with property damage sustained during Hurricane Ida. Each affected employee received a grant between $250 and $1,000, for a grand total of $17,250.

A committee of their peers from across Hunterdon Healthcare reviewed all submitted requests and awarded funds based on level of need. Many of those who applied described devastating losses of cars, property and in some cases, homes that were no longer livable.

One affected staff member expressed his gratitude for the grant he received: "You don't know how much this means to me and my family. I'm truly blessed to work for Hunterdon Healthcare and so thankful for helping those of us that were affected unexpectedly by this devastating storm Ida. From the bottom of my heart, my family and I thank my peers across the health system for their generosity."

New Beginnings

Possible By Crucial Cancer Treatment

At 25 years old, Kristina Hahn had just landed a promising job at a pharmaceutical company, bought a house and was engaged to be married. It was also when she found out she had breast cancer.

Kristina discovered a lump in her left breast, and after having an ultrasound done, she had a biopsy.

"I was sure it would be a benign breast mass that we find commonly in 25-year-olds," said Jennifer A. Montes, MD, MPH, director of the surgical breast program at Hunterdon Healthcare and a Hunterdon Healthcare Foundation Board member. "But it came back as cancer."

"I went to the doctor two days before what would have been my wedding day," said Kristina. "She told me there were cancer cells, and I just sat there in shock. But she told me, 'We're going to get through this, everything is going to be okay.'"

The team at Hunterdon, including Dr. Montes and Dr. Megha Shah, medical oncologist with Hunterdon Hematology Oncology and fellow Hunterdon Healthcare Foundation Board member, decided to start Kristina on immunotherapy and a targeted therapy specifically for the breast cancer that she had.

"Fortunately, when we did Kristina's work-up, she didn't have any disease that had spread anywhere," said Dr. Shah. "It was all very localized, so we knew she would do well with it."

Kristina says she had gotten a second opinion at a larger hospital, but it wasn't a good fit for her. "They just didn't have that one-on-one community aspect that Hunterdon does," she said. "I just felt like it was a family. That everyone cared so much about everyone and they wanted to get to know you."

“To be there that day and watch her walk in with her dress and her hair and her makeup and just looking like an absolute movie star—that’s why I do this. I’m able to connect with my patients in a way that I wouldn’t be able to if I were at a larger hospital, seeing 50-60 patients a day.”

DR. JENNIFER MONTES

Maintaining that connection was especially important to Kristina’s doctors, who wanted to make sure that she didn’t feel alone in receiving her diagnosis or going through her treatment.

“I had to find different ways of connecting with her and making sure that she felt supported, so I gave her my personal cell phone number, my email, and I was able to connect her with other women that I knew had gone through similar journeys with breast cancer at a young age,” said Dr. Montes.

After her treatments had completed, Kristina opted to have a bilateral mastectomy to lower the risk of the cancer returning. On her 26th birthday, Kristina received perhaps the best gift ever – she was cancer-free.

A few months later, Kristina was able to walk down the aisle at her wedding—with Drs. Montes and Shah right there to support her. “Dr. Shah and Dr. Montes were both on the dance floor,” said Kristina. “Dr. Montes was pulling all the guests onto the dance floor, and it was great having them there.”

“To be there that day and watch her walk in with her dress and her hair and her makeup and just looking like an absolute movie star—that’s why I do this,” said Dr. Montes. “I’m able to connect with my patients in a way that I wouldn’t be able to if I were at a larger hospital, seeing 50-60 patients a day.”

For cancer patients who need additional support to access the superior care that Kristina received, Hunterdon Healthcare Foundation collects donations for a special needs fund. This fund is used to pay for transportation, medical, utility and grocery bills when these costs interfere with a patient’s ability to receive care at Hunterdon Regional Cancer Center. This fund ensures everyone, whatever their personal circumstances, can have cancer treatment of the highest level of excellence and compassion.

Long-Serving Physician Leaves Legacy Through Generous Gift

Donation supports Phillips-Barber Health Center

After graduating from Temple University School of Medicine, Dr. Laurence Russell, Jr. joined Hunterdon Medical Center for a three-year residency in family medicine. Those three years ended up initiating an entire lifetime of connection to our health system.

After spending a few years in private practice, Dr. Russell returned to Hunterdon as Director of Residency Training at Hunterdon Family Medicine at Phillips-Barber in Lambertville. He would also go on to serve on the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education, where he traveled all over the United States and the world, reviewing and ensuring the high standards of graduate medical programs.

Although he enjoyed this work for many years, Dr. Russell always felt Hunterdon Healthcare was his second home. “My dad spent 20 years at Hunterdon, caring deeply about his patients and making sure the standard of care was better than any other hospital around,” said Laurence Russell III, his son. “His passion in life was helping residency programs become as efficient as possible, and helping to set the standard of care for medicine in this country until the day he passed away.”

That day sadly came on May 31, 2021, when Russell passed away peacefully, surrounded by his loved ones on his 85-acre farm. Before his passing, Russell left an enduring legacy to Hunterdon Healthcare, with a significant gift of $556,058 in support of Phillips-Barber. His gift will help fund the visionary Laurence Russell Campus at

“Hunterdon Medical Center’s residency program is a wonderful medical community, and my hope is that my father’s donation can help this program carry on for many years to come.”

Phillips-Barber, an endeavor that will double the size of our Phillips-Barber primary care practice, add specialty care shared office space, and create a new and improved wellness center.

“There’s no other place my dad would have wanted to donate money than to Hunterdon,” his son professed. “Hunterdon was where he grew in his career and learned how to be the administrator he was over the years. His passion for family medicine and for teaching doctors and administrators how to be better at what they do to care for people was honed at Hunterdon, and it is a wonderful, wonderful place to have that happen.”

“Hunterdon Medical Center’s residency program is a wonderful medical community,” he added, “and my hope is that my father’s donation can help this program carry on for many years to come.”

Provident Bank and Hunterdon Healthcare: Supporting the Community Through Giving

Provident Bank believes strongly in helping those in the community thrive. Hunterdon Healthcare is benefiting from this in so many ways.

In June 2021, Hunterdon Healthcare Foundation received a significant grant of $15,000 from The Provident Bank Foundation to support their Transportation Access initiative, which offers free transportation for those in need to get to and from medical appointments at Hunterdon Medical Center.

The Provident Bank Foundation began its relationship with Hunterdon Healthcare Foundation in 2017, when Provident awarded a $50,000 grant to the hospital to expand its primary care services for those with mental illness.

“This initiative had fantastic outcomes and changed the way this vulnerable and often underserved population receives care,” said Samantha Plotino, Executive Director of The Provident Bank Foundation. “So it was an easy decision by our board of directors to support Hunterdon Healthcare System’s transportation access project.”

“The Provident Bank Foundation was established in 2003, with an endowment of over $24 million. Since inception, it has granted more than $28 million in support,” said Plotino. “We are on track to commit another $2 million in grants in 2022. Thanks to the Foundation Board’s prudent management of our portfolio over the years, we have been able to maintain our endowment without the need for additional fundraising.”

Plotino, who worked in the nonprofit sector for many years prior to joining Provident, believes that the nonprofit sector holds great power which can accomplish remarkable things for its communities.

“The Provident Bank Foundation was established to support the communities where Provident Bank has a presence,” she says. “When we partner with incredible organizations like Hunterdon Healthcare Foundation and invest our funding support into their missions, great things happen. Change is made both in the short term and in fundamental ways that change the trajectories of people’s lives.”

Provident Bank Foundation President Chris Martin says support of the Hunterdon Healthcare System was made all the more crucial by the COVID-19 pandemic.

“The level of care and support for the health system in all of our communities has become more critical with COVID and the dedication of those front-line workers should never be forgotten,” he says. “The breadth and depth of the care providers within any of our communities remain steadfast in their ability to make outcomes positive.”

Plotino adds that Hunterdon Healthcare System is an essential part of its community and helps improve the quality of life of its neighbors through access to quality care provided by the system’s doctors, nurses, medical professionals and administrators.

For its part, Provident Bank Foundation hopes to continue partnering with Hunterdon Healthcare System, funding programs and services that focus on the immediate needs of those in Hunterdon County, and the individuals served by the health system.

“ Our hope is to continue to build upon the health of the community as it exits the pandemic, and that we all remember the sacrifices of the doctors, nurses and practitioners as we continue the pursuit to a healthier lifestyle. ”
